G. A. Blackstock Hears Appeals Against Taxation

Mr. G. A. Blackstock, chairman of the Board of Public Utilities, is in town to-day and at 10 a.m. heard appeals against the waiving of taxation on the Community hall, and against taxing the hospital surgery and the residence occupied by Dr. Liesemer and owned by the hospital board.

Assessor C. W. May appealed against the council waiving taxation against the Community hall. The hospital board is appealing against the council taxing the surgery and the residence. Mr. A. L. Smith, K.C., is acting on behalf of the miners' union and the hospital board.

Mr. Blackstock's decisions will be handed down at a later date.

Angelo Gentile Leaves to Reside At Coast

Most Widely Known Sports Promoter in The Pass; Will Manage Hotel at Langley Prairie.

The Pass lost one of its best known citizens on Sunday morning when Angelo Gentile, suitcase in hand, had good-bye to Coleman and stepped into the train which will carry him to Langley Prairie, near New Westminster, where he will become manager of a hotel.

Angelo came to this town with his mother and other members of his family from Italy when twelve years of age. His father came here in 1910, sending for his family in 1914. He attended the local public school and in 1917 entered the employ of McGillivray Creek. At the age of 21 he became an employee of the Empire hotel where he remained for a couple of years. He again entered the employ of McGillivray Creek and in 1934 left the mine to enter the employ of the Coleman hotel. He remained with the hotel till this week-end when he departed for the Pacific coast.

Angelo is best known for his sports' activities. His baseball teams have won both district and provincial championships and did much to put Coleman on the summer sports' map. In the big baseball tournaments Coleman's name was always to the fore regardless of the calibre of the opposing teams, as Angelo usually called upon the cream of southern Alberta ball players to wear the Coleman uniforms.

Again in hockey he took a keen interest and did much to promote hockey among the local youth during the years when the public lost interest after witnessing semi-pro hockey for a number of years.

He was an ardent curler and was a member of the local club and attended bonspiels from Lethbridge to Cranbrook.

Angelo's influence in local sports' circles will be greatly missed.

In 1938-39 he was a member of the town council having topped the poll in the 1938 elections. His many friends wish him luck in his new position.

CHICK ROUGHHEAD WINS THE SYLVAN LAKE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The remaining games in the men's singles of the Sylvan Lake Labor Day tennis tournament were played on the courts of the Red Deer club this week. On Sunday afternoon Lt. Emil Gamache, of A-20 Training Centre, beat Colin Clark 6-4, 6-4, 6-3 in a good match. On Monday evening Pte. Charles Roughhead, of A-20, defeated Lt. Gamache 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 to win the title in another hard fought match. All three players are members of the Red Deer Tennis Club.

Compulsory Savings Certificates Coming

Hon. C. W. G. Gibson, minister of national revenue, Friday, announced that certificates showing amounts standing to the credit of Canadians under the compulsory savings plan "will be going forward in about one month."

"Every taxpayer in the country will be given full credit for the amount of his compulsory saving and will receive a certificate each year," he said.

He added that the taxpayer will receive the total amount of his savings, plus interest at two per cent a year, and will receive principal and interest in full two years after the end of the war.

YOUNG GIRLS DONATE TO MILK FOR BRITAIN FUND

Diane Guernard and Margaret Kennedy donated $1.92 and Frances Kovenka and Isobel Dick donated 88c to the Milk for Britain Fund last week, the young girls placing their donations in the Fund milk bottle located on the Coleman Cash Grocery counter. The young Misses are to be commended on their work in raising the money for such a worthy cause.

Bellevue-Hillcrest Miners to Support Salvation Army

Assess Themselves 50c Each $300 Expected from Them; Coleman Drive Started Wednesday; Mayor Williams Chairman of Blairmore Drive

Miners of the Bellevue-Hillcrest union have decided to assess themselves 50c each to aid the Salvation Army campaign in the Pass. It is expected approximately $300 will be raised from this assessment. In addition to the miners the business section is expected to give it an added boost.

Locally the drive started on Wednesday. Chairman Mac Stigler and his assistants canvassing the business section and others not engaged at the mines. Coleman's quota has been set at $500.

Mayor Enoch Williams, of Blairmore, is in charge of the Blairmore campaign and fully expects to raise the $400 quota. Blairmore has just finished giving the grand sum of $630 to the Chinese War Relief fund.

The towns of Frank, Sentinel and Crows Nest will be under the personal canvass of Lieut. Nahirney.

Red Cross Meeting

The first meeting of the fall season will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 28, in the council chamber at 8 p.m. All interested in Red Cross work are cordially invited to attend. Local organizations are asked to have their representatives present.—J. A. Park, Secretary.

Coleman's Grand Old Couple Celebrate Birthdays

Mr. Alex Fyfe was the recipient of congratulations and gifts on the occasion of his 82nd birthday on Tuesday evening when a party in his honor was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Ford, on Sixth street. It is interesting to note that Mrs. Fyfe celebrated her 83rd birthday on Aug. 12.

Attending the party were the guest-of-honor's daughter, Mrs. R. Cousins, and her husband, of Blairmore, and Mrs. Dave Robert, of Coleman, as well as two old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrison, of Graftonville.

The years hang lightly on Mr. Fyfe's shoulders and he is to be seen taking his daily walk down town for his mail. His pet hobby is his flower and vegetable garden at his Fourth street home and he can be seen at almost any time of the day spending many enjoyable hours "puttering" around his garden.

Mrs. Fyfe, despite her 83 years, is still able to visit her daughters on occasions. The family members are quite frequent visitors to their parents' home and Mrs. Fyfe can often be seen at her front gate waving them good-bye as they take their leave.

Mr. Fyfe came to Coleman in 1911 and with a brief exception when he, along with Mrs. Fyfe, visited their homeland, Scotland, has remained here. He was in the employ of International Co. for many years as stable boss. Advanced age caused him to retire many years ago and since that time he has been enjoying his years of retirement.

Their many friends extend best wishes for many happy returns of the day and continued good health.

Soldiers' Letters

Canadian Legion: On behalf of Leonard Hoyle and myself I am taking this opportunity of dropping you a line to inform you that we are both well and happy. Hoping we find all of you the same.

Perhaps I should disclose some information on the type of country we're in. To begin with there is plenty of sand, heat, flies and mosquitoes. The sand gets in your tea and food, the heat often times soars up to a mere 130 degrees in the sun, the flies irritate one trying to sleep during the day. The mosquitoes are our most dangerous enemy, being carriers of Malaria fever, so that we take extra precautions against it, i.e. the mosquito net at night and anti-mosquito ointment rubbed well on the exposed parts of the body in the evening and morning. We also take mepherine, tablets—all in all we are pretty safe.

We have good entertainment, the Y.M.C.A. sponsors movies, talent concerts and bingo games.

There is an abundance of fruit watermelon, grapes, plums, cantaloupe, oranges and lemons, so we have plenty of variety in our meals. We also have plenty of wines, all of them being local beverages. Hoping we will hear from you, we'll write often. Cheerio, best regards to all—Leonard Hoyle and Herman Hirsch.

Canadian Legion: Just a few lines to inform you we are still fine and in good health. At the present time am in the signals. Besides myself there is Lawrence Jakulak, Leonard Hoyle and Eddie Smith, of Bellevue. They all send their best regards and are in good health and we hope to be home soon.

The boys did a wonderful job over here and they were all happy to get into action. At present we are just resting up and rarin' to go again.

The Sicilian people are very co-operative and were happy to see us. There is all kinds of fruit here such as grapes, watermelon, figs and almonds, etc.

Well I must bid you all cheerio and hope to hear from you soon, so the very best to everyone in Coleman, we will be looking forward to seeing you all soon—Herman Hirsch.

FOSS PRAISES RED CROSS

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boulton received a letter from their son Foss, now a prisoner of war in Germany. In it he gives great praise to the Red Cross. A portion of his letter follows:

"I am feeling quite well, my wounds are healing rapidly. I was shot down near Amiens on May 13, and have been hospitalized since. I cannot speak too highly of the German doctors and medical care. The Red Cross also has been a Godsend. I was wounded by explosive 20 mm. cannon shells on the legs slightly, left arm, back and head. I was indeed lucky to come out alive but as I always said those born to be hanged will never drown. I have lots to read and the sun, air and good food is building me up quickly.

Following is a letter received from Leonard Hoyle by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hoyle:

July 15 (1 think). Dear Folks: Well I guess you should have received my last letter from England by now.

This country (somewhere in North Africa) is beyond my powers of description. The natives dress in rags and each and every rag is a challenge to the forces of gravity. Few wear shoes and none wear stockings. Their feet are about the size of tennis racquets, if nature has been kind enough to leave them with two complete feet. Generally she hasn't. Some have a toe or two eaten away and some have one missing and eaten away right to the instep. Open sores cover them almost completely from head to their mis-shapen feet.

I have been unfortunate enough to have seen three lepers. God, is nature cruel! They are crooked (the natives) from birth. They will buy or steal (preferably steal) anything at all—short-change you as a matter of course and probably palm off a franc note that is of the Bank of France and therefore like Hitler. They do not consider a "tipper" generous, but merely stupid and would probably have more respect for you if you robbed them.

The French are a little better dressed, however, and some actually wash.

SHOOT SHEEP AND GOAT

Jim Kerr and Mike Polak, of Coleman; Bill Cole, of Bellevue, and Joe Kovach, game warden at Canmore, were on a hunting trip last week at the head of the Elbow river near Kananaskis. Hunting was very good and each man shot his sheep and goat. Jim remarks that the fishing was also very fine.

Biography Series Being Well Received

A Number of Students Have Started Albums on Series; Some Ladies a Little Impatient.

It has been most gratifying both to Mr. Joe Kapalka, sponsor of the biography series on local men and women in the armed forces, and to The Journal to note the wide-spread interest taken in the series. Especially satisfying is the knowledge that a number of students have started albums on the series and are keeping them up to date.

This is the fourth week of the series and already The Journal has been approached by some mothers asking if they may bring pictures to be used in the series. As pointed out when we commenced the "Spotlight." The Journal has a number of pictures on hand and since they cost approximately $2.75 each, we must naturally make use of these before undertaking the expense of a new set of pictures. When the present supply of pictures has been exhausted an appeal will be made for more.

Persons desiring to start their albums can secure back copies at The Journal office.

Important Notice In Company Advt.

Parents and wives having men, former employees of the local coal companies, in the ARMY are asked to read the coal companies' advertisement very carefully this week. It carries an important message for them and one which they are asked to act upon.

Miners Vote Heavily In Favor Of Strike Action

Approximately 9,000 miners employed in practically all the coal mines in Alberta and British Columbia voted on Tuesday on whether they will go out on strike.

The strike vote was called by District 18, United Mine Workers of America, with headquarters in Calgary. The result will be known later this week.

The ballot reads: "Are you in favor of taking strike action to enforce the demands and policies of the convention (District 18, United Mine Workers of America) on wage increases?"

Demands of the convention, held in August, were as follows:

1. An increase of pay of $2 daily for all employees and time and a half and rate and a half for the sixth day of the week.

2. Two weeks' holidays with pay for employees who have served one year with the coal company.

Pass Vote

Miners in the Crows' Nest Pass are voting overwhelmingly in favor of the strike vote. In Coleman the figures were yes, 684; no, 30; spoiled ballots, 3; Blairmore: yes, 443; no, 18; Bellevue-Hillcrest: yes, 498; no, 31; spoiled ballots, 2.

Due to the widespread vote in Alberta and British Columbia it takes a day or two before official figures are released. Present indications, however, from the Pass and Drumheller fields point to a heavy strike vote.

Ladies Auxiliary Canadian Legion Makes New Ruling

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion announces that all women who have husbands, brothers or sons in the armed forces are eligible to join the Auxiliary and are cordially invited to become members. The initiation fee is $1.00 and the yearly fee is $1.00. They need your help. Make application to Mrs. J. Lonsbury, secretary.

Two Grass Fires Last Week

Last week grass fires occurred on the flats and on the side of the hill on Second street west. It was a source of amazement to the fire workers called to the fires to watch the behaviour of persons whose property was endangered by the flames. With about one exception these people showed little inclination to help put out the fires being quite content to watch the fire department doing the work. It is stated that a garden hose used in the early stages of the fires could easily have extinguished them.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. W. Martland, Mrs. S. Penney, Mrs. A. Jones and Mrs. C. Roughhead were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower in the parish hall on Wednesday of last week in honor of Mrs. William Shields, (nee Helen Gate). Approximately sixty guests were present.

Whist and bingo were played, whilst winners being Mrs. R. Vincent and Mrs. George Roper. Bingo winners were Miss Eileen Fry and Mrs. J. Shields.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses following which a gayly decorated basket of gifts was brought to the guest-of-honor and presented to her by Mesdames A. Jones and C. Roughhead. Mrs. W. Shields ably voiced her thanks for the handsome and useful gifts.

Order Cancelled

Nazis Will Not Need Swedish Granite For Victory Monuments
The Germans have notified the Swedish stone industry to halt the quarrying of granite which they had ordered for the post-war construction of German victory monuments and official Nazi buildings. An enormous contract for the stone was issued at the beginning of the war. Huge blocks of red, black and grey granite have been stored in Sweden pending delivery to the Nazis.

Girls' Band

Pipes Imported From India Are Played By Lakehead Girl Pipers
Back in 1939, when the Fort William Girls' Pipe Band was organized, the Canadian supply of bagpipes was so limited that arrangements had to be made to import pipes from India.

Today the Fort William Girls' Pipe Band is one of the busiest musical organizations in Canada, playing at least five engagements every week, most of them for the entertainment of members of the armed forces.

The band's early association with things Indian has continued to the present time, for the leopard skin worn by the bass drummer comes from a leopard shot in that country by a missionary friend of the band. He had the hide cured, and shipped it to Fort William this spring.

Concluding a week-long tour which had taken them to M.D. 10 training centres at Brandon, Shilo Camp and Portage la Prairie, the girls appeared at the 103rd Basic Training Centre at Fort Garry, Winnipeg suburb, on September 2nd, and the Orpheum Theatre for down town troops on September 3rd.

Entirely self-sustaining, the band last summer toured the central United States with Gracie Fields. Ages of the band members range from 13 to 19 years. In charge of the girl pipers are Mrs. P. MacGregor and Mrs. R. McGowan, both members of the band's auxiliary, and Mr. C. Dykes, band president.

Within Range Of Guns

New Treatment For Soldiers Good Cure For Nerve Shock

British soldiers suffering from "nervous" shock in Sicily were normally taken out of the line for a few days relaxation within range of enemy guns, according to London psychologists.

The practice, one explained, is a development of "an interesting principle originated in the last war." The aim is to give no time for the shock to set in.

"If you send a soldier suffering mental distress due to physical exhaustion for an extended convalescence," he continued, "he has time to brood and his cure may take far longer."

"But give him just a few days' rest in the battle zone and some drug such as luminal or veronal to relax taut nerves and you soon have him back to normal."

Speed Grain Shipments

Movement Of Wheat, Oats And Barley For Eastern Canada

In order to speed up the movement of wheat, oats and barley for feed for livestock in Eastern Canada, such grain containing up to one per cent. dockage may now be shipped direct from country points in Western Canada without stop off for cleaning at Fort William or Port Arthur, the Feeds Administrator has announced.

This concession, he said, is an emergency measure only and is intended to help relieve the bottleneck due to congested facilities at the lake head terminals. Such grain will be eligible for free freight and other subsidies which are now in effect.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 26

ABIDING VALUES FROM ISRAEL'S HISTORY

Golden text: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. Proverbs 14:34.
Lesson: Deuteronomy, Chapters 1-3, Chapter 11.
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 10:12-22.

Explanations and Comments

An Appeal Based on God's Goodness, Deuteronomy 11:1-19. The first six verses of this chapter recount what God had done for the Israelites in saving them from the Egyptians, and then stop abruptly for, as verse seven declares, "But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the Lord which he did," and the next verse begins with "Therefore". Therefore, because of their experience of God's goodness to them, they must keep all his commandments. As the result of their keeping the commandments they will be strong, and can go in and possess the land.

The Promised Inheritance, Deuteronomy 11:16-12. It was a rich land that they were to possess, luxurious in pasture and profuse in flowers, as attested by its abundance of milk and honey. It was not as the land of Egypt, where they sowed their seed and then had to water it with their foot. This was done by raising the water from the Nile by means of pumps whose treadwheels were worked with the foot, or by diverting water into channels whose separating ridges were broken down, or whose sluices were opened, by the feet.) The land to which they were going was watered by rain from heaven. The Israelites could hope to prosper if they served the Lord, Deuteronomy 11:13-17. If they loved and served God with all their heart and soul, they would be rewarded by the former and the latter rain, the two rainy seasons of Palestine, which would enable them to gather in their grain, their wine, and their oil. The "former rain" falls in late October or early November, when the seed is sown; the "latter rain" in March-April, before the harvest. Unlike Egypt the fertility of Canaan was not the reward of human labor and skill in irrigation, but was the result of rain from heaven. Without the autumn rain the seed would not quicken and grow, and without the spring rain there would be no "full corn in the ear." Should they turn aside and worship and serve other gods, Jehovah's anger would be against them, no rain would fall, and they would perish.

"Let us remember that there is no method of obtaining God's protection but adherence to his laws." (Gladstone).

Aid To Russia

Britain Sending Large Consignments Of Warm Clothing

The British Government's decision to allocate £2½ million toward the cost of providing clothes for Russia—the other half-million pounds being met by Mrs. Churchill's Red Cross Aid to Russia Fund—has resulted in the purchase of a large variety of goods, including heavy woollen cloth, sheepskin and fur coats, pull-overs, men's and women's suits, dresses and overcoats. Large consignments have already been sent out, and will be followed by others as shipping becomes available. This, when shortage of such supplies in Great Britain necessitates such rationing that if a woman bought one pair of full-fashioned stockings a month, and one dress and one pair of shoes a year, she would have no coupons left to buy other clothes!

Locomotives For Russia

Britain Has Dispatched A Number For Use Of Army

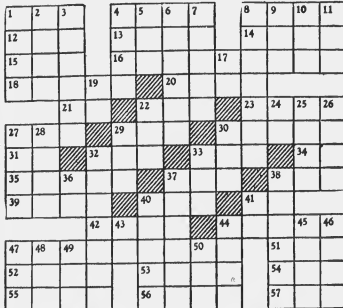

Britain has dispatched a substantial number of her best locomotives to help the Russian Army, and has done fine engineering work in opening up transportation through Persia on the southern route to Russia.

As early as November 10th, 1941, the 1,000th freight car built by the Southern Railway Company in Great Britain to carry supplies to Russia through Persia was sent on its way. Working all day and night, men and women finished the work in ten weeks, with the co-operation of other railway companies which helped with materials. In peacetime, the same output would be scheduled for twelve-months' work.

CHAPTER III

WHEN the coach was ready Jonathan ordered his own horse brought out and the reins fastened to the rear of the vehicle. "I am going with these people, Master Knowles. Therefore, if the gentleman I left upstairs inquires my identity, you will be telling no untruth if you state that I am a member of Mistress Jamieson's entourage."

"He shall not have your name from me, Jonathan," Knowles promised. "But you will have to drive fast if you expect to reach London ahead of him. The gentleman came here on horseback and it will not take him long to overtake you."

Nevertheless, in spite of the warning, Jonathan took the road out of Winnipeg that led toward London. M. Denys, on the coachman's seat beside young Hale, was nervous.

"Better use that whip, M. Hale," he advised, peering over his shoulder at the town they were leaving behind. "That fellow will find clothes of some sort and will be after us like the devil himself."

Jonathan smiled. "We need not worry about pursuers. At the first crossroad we are turning off this highway. Mistress Anne is in no condition to travel. I am taking you to my home, where she will be safe and can rest while our friend, his lordship, is combing this road and the London streets."

"Bless! Better and appreciation of the simple strategy evoked a spontaneous laugh from the little Frenchman."

THE Hale farmhouse was in darkness when Jonathan drove into the yard. A shepherd dog barked a welcome, and as Jonathan climbed down from the coach a shutter clicked and a voice inquired: "Is that you, Jonathan?"

"Yes, grandfather," he responded. "I have brought guests with me, and they are lastly suffering from shock and injury."

Once again Anne had to be carried. A light appeared in a window and Thomas Hale, a stooped gaunt man, had the door open when Jonathan reached the house.

Grudgingly, the old man shuffled aside to permit them entrance. In the kitchen was Faith, a stout, plain-faced girl, and at a word from Jonathan she lighted the way to her own bedroom with a candle. It was Faith who drew back the sheets and counterpane and covered Anne after Jonathan had lowered the girl's head to the pillow.

"I am sorry for the trouble I am causing," Anne smiled, and her eyes sought Jonathan. "This is your sister?"

"This is Faith Meade," said Jonathan. "An orphan when my mother reared from a baby. Er—Faith and I are to be married in a few days." Anne's gaze returned to the blond girl, then her slim fingers stole out to rest on the square, work-redened hand smoothing the counterpane. "You are very fortunate, Mistress Faith. Jonathan will make you a good husband."

"Yes," Faith nodded matter-of-factly. "He can outwork any man in Winnipeg and he goes to meeting every Sunday."

DENYS and Thomas Hale were standing near the bedroom door. The little man found the eyes of the old Puritan on him and shifted under the undisguised hostility. "We expect to reimburse you for your hospitality, monsieur," Denys apologized. A night's rest should find Mistress Anne ready to return to London."

"Monsieur?" old Thomas repeated. "You are French?"

Denys nodded, and Hale's head jerked toward the bed. "That woman is your sister?"

"No," said Monsieur Denys. "Your wife?"

"No. You see, the stage is our profession. Mistress Jamieson is one of the best-known actresses in London."

"Actress!" The word exploded from Thomas Hale, and he fell back as though in the presence of something foul and unclean. "Gross heaven! Jonathan—you bring this shameless creature—this hussy—your grandfather!" Jonathan caught the arm lifted like that of a wrathful Jove. "I offered these people sanctuary! And your uncle's Mistress Anne! Surely we can suffer their presence for the few hours that remain of the night?"

Thomas Hale raised his hand. "I would not turn a mongrel dog from my door if the creature were ailing. These Jeezels can spend the night, but get ye out of this room at once!"

WHEN Jonathan retired to his room late that night after a long session with his grandfather he found Monsieur Denys dancing about the bedroom and flourishing a rapier.

The Frenchman grinned sheepishly and lowered his sword. "I was limbering up my muscles," he explained. "You see—" he ran his hand across when I get to London and Anne tells me who the miord is I intend to call the fellow out."

"It is unsatisfactory to practice alone," said Jonathan, indicating a scabbard sword hung by a belt over a wall-peg.

"You fence?" Denys inquired in surprise.

"Hardly," demurred Jonathan. "But all my life I have practiced at imaginary marks as you were just doing. You see—" he ran his hand across when I get to London and Anne tells me who the miord is I intend to call the fellow out."

Jonathan, catching sight of that momentarily exposed throat, to drive in with murderous intent? Had it been jealousy?

With the morning Mistress Jamieson's injured ankle had recovered to such an extent that she was able to walk with no more than a trace of a limp.

Like Jonathan, her stay at the Knowles Tavern had been forced by the storm, and in the coach were trunks that it had been unnecessary to touch for an overnight stay. From this wardrobe the actress replaced the clothes she had been forced to abandon.

Jonathan followed the Frenchman and the two girls out when the coach was ready.

"You are certain it is safe to leave?" he asked.

"Yes," Denys nodded. "Moreover, we intend to enter London from the direction least expected. The miord shall not molest us again."

The Frenchman climbed into the driver's seat and gathered up the reins. Estelle was already in the coach. "Good-by, Jonathan," Anne extended a hand. "I hope you find America to your liking." As her fingers fell into his great palm she stepped clear on tip-toe and, before he had divined her intention she kissed him squarely on the mouth.

"Thank you, Jonathan," she murmured, her lips moving against his, "for all you have done for us. Please remember me as the lady you thought me in the beginning."

She attempted to free her hand, then paused, startled at the expression on his face. Before she could step back Jonathan swept her into his arms, crushing her close to him, his lips seeking hers once more.

"Jonathan! Jonathan!" she pleaded, struggling in his grasp. "Please—let me go!"

Slowly he released her and remained standing there while Anne entered the coach and the vehicle drove off.

"Jonathan," said another voice, and Faith Meade was beside him, peering anxiously into his face.

"Jonathan!" Her hand brushed his arm timidly. "You are trembling, Jonathan."

Canadian Labels

War Supplies For United Nations To Carry Distinctive Symbol

Canadian-made war supplies to the United Nations are going to carry the name "Canada" emblazoned in Chinese, Russian and English in the future, the mutual aid board announced.

The new insignia for Canadian war exports is in the form of a circular sticker centred on a maple leaf and designed in red, blue and gold. The name "Canada" in three languages edges the circle. Distribution of the stickers is being handled by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Under the mutual aid plan, made-in-Canada products will be available to China, Russia, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, India, the French Committee of National Liberation, the Caribbean area and possibly to other United Nations.

The new label is intended to convey to Allies the story of Canada's sympathetic co-operation and develop new kinship that will outlast the war, the board said in its announcement.

HAVE TO BE COLORED

Ripeness of an orange is not determined by its color. Navel oranges do not color up when ripe and have to be colored orange because of public prejudice against buying green oranges.

When Capt. P. D. Iverson brought his airliner to a stop in Regina airport, August 31, after a successful flight from Saskatoon, it marked the first division of Canadian Pacific Air Lines of 100 per cent efficiency for the month of August.

The division had flown 31,636 miles, or roughly the equivalent of one and a quarter times around the world at the equator. Not one scheduled mile had been lost. Six hundred and ninety-one passengers had been carried; 5,629 pounds of mail delivered.

No flights were cancelled because of weather, though August brought a number of thunderstorms along the route between Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and North Battleford, and Prince Albert. Shown above are, left to right: Capt. Iverson, First Officer H. E. Thorn, W. T. Bunn, flying assistant superintendent, and H. T. Bancroft, supervisor.

Pies Without Pastry

Graham Wafers Overcome The Shortening Shortage

(By Molly O'Dale)

There's no reason in the world why your family should not enjoy delicious pies for dessert, despite the scarcity of rationed butter and other shortenings. Here's a pie crust that requires no shortening of any kind—a tender, delicious pie crust that comes ready-made straight out of a cardboard package—no flour, no rolling, no fuss whatever.

First, get a package of Christie's Graham Wafers. Then, place a layer of wafers on the bottom of a lightly-greased pie-plate, trimming some of it to fit the shape, and filling in any uncovered spaces with wafer crumbs. Cut other wafers in halves and stand them on edge around the sloping side of the pie-plate. And there's your pie-crust!

Don't be skeptical as to whether the pie crust will hang together when individual pieces are cut after the filling goes in. It will! Just try it and see for yourself. You'll find that each individual wedge of pie comes out intact. For the filling of Christie's Graham Wafer Pie, use one of the following recipes:

Chocolate Filling

3 tablespoons corn starch
2 cups milk
5 tablespoons sugar
1 square chocolate or 4 tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix dry ingredients with a little cold milk. Scald rest of milk and add corn starch mixture. Put in double boiler and stir while it cooks and thickens. When smooth and somewhat thick, cover and cook for 10 minutes more, stirring occasionally. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Pour into graham wafer crust and bake, if available.

Caramel Filling

3 tablespoons corn starch
2 cups milk
5 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon butter
Pinch of salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla or a few drops of maple

Caramelize sugar by heating over direct fire in top part of double boiler until it becomes a golden brown syrup. Remove from fire and add 1/2 cups of milk. Place over lower part of double boiler. Mix corn starch and salt with remaining cold milk to make a smooth paste. Pour hot milk into paste and stir thoroughly. Pour back into double boiler and heat until it begins to thicken, stirring constantly. After it thickens smoothly, cover and cook for 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Remove from fire and add butter and vanilla. Pour into wafer crust and bake, if available.

Apple Chiffon Filling

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
1 cup cold water
2 cups sweetened hot applesauce
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Pinch of salt and 2 egg whites. Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Then add to hot applesauce and stir until dissolved. Stir in nutmeg, lemon juice and salt and chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour filling into crust, sprinkle with graham wafer crumbs and chill.

IRON LUNG FROM SCRAP

How naval artificers at Gibraltar made an "iron lung" out of scrap and saved a man's life was described by Sir Sheldon F. Dudley, medical director-general of the British navy. The man was attacked by infantile paralysis at a time when the only lung on the Rock was in use, he said. Naval artificers used scrap metal to copy the lung and it worked perfectly.

Teaches Motorcycle Mechanics To Troops

Practical lessons in motorcycle mechanics will be given hundreds of Canadian Army officers and men by instructors of the new mobile motorcycle maintenance school now touring camps across the country. In this view Sgt. J. N. Rae, of Calgary, an instructor, checks the work of Pte. J. D. Hisey, of Edmonton (centre) and Pte. Ernie Clements, of Montreal.

Intrepid motorcyclists a few years ago, now among Canada's most travelled soldiers.

And it isn't such a long step from one to the other! Ask the three instructors of the newly-formed Canadian Motorcycle Maintenance School—a mobile house of knowledge which is touring camps from one end of Canada to the other.

Hundreds of Army officers, N.C.O.'s and men will learn maintenance and repair short-cuts from these professors of motorcycle mechanics before the end of the year.

This new role for instructors. Lieut. C. G. E. Downing, of Swift Current, Sask.; Sgt. Gordon Davies, of Toronto; and Sgt. J. N. Rae, of Calgary, is the culmination of years of tinkering with temperamental pre-war "bikes" and practical experience with the Army's sleek, new mounts.

All three owned "bikes" before the war and were well-grounded in motorcycle mechanics before they enlisted. Sgt. Davies, a veteran with three quarters of a ton of equipment aboard, two standard Army station wagons headed out of Kingston, Ont., early in July. The mobile Canadian Motorcycle Maintenance School was officially born; and one of the longest tours in Canadian military history started.

Present schedule of the unit calls for a jaunt to the Atlantic seaboard and then a swing back to western military districts. Practically every unit in Canada will be visited by the mobile school before the end of the tour.

The school will stop one week with each unit. In that time, the entire field of motorcycle mechanics will be surveyed and students given an opportunity to make head work in a mechanical way with experts.

Equipment carried by the vans includes a complete motorcycle, two cut-away models of motorcycle engines, a "bike" transmission and a model lighting system. A blackboard and a number of charts are utilized for lectures.

Drivers of the unit's station wagons are Pte. J. D. Hisey, of Edmonton, and Pte. Ernie Clements, of Montreal.

A GOOD SUBSTITUTE

Candies made entirely from potatoes, yet indistinguishable in appearance and flavor from chocolate creams, are being made in Australia, in answer to the shortage of condensed milk supplies. The process was developed by Miss Annette Kellerman, noted swimmer and diver.

To save paper, 3,500 advertisements on London transport buses, trolley buses, have been painted directly onto the vehicles. 2534

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Danger Ahead

Approximately 9,000 miners of District 18, U. M. W. A., voted overwhelmingly this week in favor of taking strike action to enforce the demands and policies of the District 18 convention held in August and which demanded an increase of $2 daily for all employees and time and a half on the sixth day of the week. Also two weeks holidays with pay for all employees having served at least one year with the coal company.

There is little doubt that the government is vitally concerned in this vote. Coal production has been officially listed as a national emergency. The government cannot allow a coal strike during war time and especially when coal production cannot meet the country's demand. Inflation haunts government officials, who see the pressure become stronger and stronger and which daily threatens to blow the roof off the price and wage ceilings. Common sense must prevail at the conference table between the government and miners' representatives. If inflation is allowed to rear its ugly head, God knows what the future will hold.

War Loan Organization

We were privileged to attend a War Loan convention last week and hear a few exceptionally good speakers on the subject of Victory Loans. What impressed us most, however, was the organization's set-up. Every phase of the loan was discussed. No detail was too small. Unit organizers from all over Alberta were present. Their reports were brief and to the point. Their experiences and suggestions were recorded and are available to any unit desiring to use them. Nothing was overlooked. Failure to achieve their quotas never entered their minds. They thought of nothing but methods to ensure success. The same smooth organization machine that exists in Alberta exists throughout Canada. It is no wonder that Canada is a model to the Allied world for Victory Loans. Her War Finance organization is second to none.

Government Should Order By-Election

From present indications it would appear that the Manning government is not going to proceed with the by-election to fill the vacancy in Calgary caused by the death of the late Premier Aberhart.

Ignoring the fact that opposition parties are clamoring for the chance of testing their respective strength at the polls, the Manning government will create a bad impression in the minds of the people if this by-election is not held. In fact, it would be the second major mistake committed by the government in the past two months, the first being the waiving of the secession duties on the Aberhart estate which they repealed after public opinion was found to be violently opposed to the act.

For years past the Social Credit government has been telling us how much they have been doing for the citizens and the province. Then why are they afraid to test public re-action to their legislation at the polls?

Calgary Holds Cancer Week

Calgary has just concluded a cancer week which has been proclaimed an unqualified success. Letters from city and country have poured in to the authorities asking numerous questions, thereby telling of the interest the messages spoken and printed during the week had been received.

We were privileged one evening during the week to be at a home when one of these messages from Calgary was being broadcast. The hostess was listening attentively to the message. One statement of fact was made that made her face light up instantly and it was noticeable that a heavy burden had been lifted from her mind. The thought struck us at that time why can't Coleman, through its service club, sponsor a similar campaign right here in the Pass. Films could be obtained on cancer, the province may be able to give suggestions on how to conduct the campaign and even send down a cancer specialist to address meetings. Its value to Pass citizens burdened with worries of cancer, which may be only imaginary in some cases, might prove invaluable.

Mail Christmas Parcels Overseas By Nov. 1

Christmas boxes will have a much longer distance to travel, entailing more handling and reshipment to reach many members of Canada's fighting services this year. To enable all the Dominion's men and women overseas to receive their gifts from home in time for Christmas Day, the postmaster-general calls on the public to mail early for Christmas overseas—not later than Nov. 1.

The public are cautioned to lose no time, but mail early for Christmas overseas—now and during October—the earlier the better to ensure the timely arrival of the anxiously awaited gift. The more distant our forces may be from Canada, the earlier their Christmas mail should be sent.

It is also suggested that to help facilitate the provision of shipping space for the overseas Christmas mails to the Canadian forces that each should voluntarily cut down as far as possible on the weight and size of each Christmas package, notwithstanding the fact that the maximum weight of a parcel at a reduced rate is set at eleven pounds.

Address all mails in ink, fully, clearly and without misleading abbreviations. Be sure to place return address on cover, also include a slip in the parcel bearing the sender's address as well as address of parcel. Prepay all mail correctly.

Parcels should be packed compactly enough to resist the pressure of other mails in the sack and the handling in transit—each article in the parcel firmly secured. Use strong corrugated containers, not light cardboard boxes, wrap in several layers of thick wrapping paper, and tie securely with strong cord. Do not use fancy Christmas tissue paper for wrapping, or colored ribbons to tie. Parcels may be sewn in strong cotton or similar fabric.

Jams, syrups and any other substances likely to leak and spread, if sent at all, must be enclosed in sealed containers, not glass bottles, surrounded with absorbent material in corrugated cardboard, and securely wrapped and tied. A completed Customs Declaration form should be affixed to every parcel. Apples, grapes, etc., or any article likely to spoil or become damaged, or to injure postal personnel, or the mails, are not acceptable. The mailing of matches, safety matches and lighter fluid or any other inflammable substance is strictly prohibited by law.

Citizens, by refraining from writing to our forces overseas that gifts are being sent, until actually mailed, can save much disappointment. Do not disappoint our men by mailing their gifts too late for Christmas delivery.

Coleman's Miss Canadas Doing Very Good Work

Coleman's Miss Canadas continue to maintain their fine record of securing impressive purchases of war savings stamps each pay-Saturday. Two pay-days ago they sold $66 worth and last pay-day their total was $70.

Mothers are more and more realizing the advantages of buying war stamps for their youngsters and are building up savings which will be used to advantage in the years to come.

The girls taking part in the war stamp sales include Betty Hillary, Corinne Fraser, Louise Aboussafy, Mary Hopkins, Frances Dibble, Audrey Grant and Teresa Generio.

Soldiers' Letters

I have met quite a few English soldiers here ("resting" after the defeat of the Africa Corps) and they are darn nice fellows. Fed up and home-sick, of course, but pleasant birds for soldiers.

We are under canvas as per usual and both ends must be left open. The Sgt.-Major closed one end of his the other night and the sand piled up over him so high that for three days you could hardly hear him over the roar of the near-by Mediterranean Ocean (two t's or two s's?). The Ocean is certainly a luxury to go down and fight the breakers. One minute you are twenty feet out of your depth and the next one is parked on one's bare bottom on the hot beach-sands.

We are eating quite well, as everything comes out of cans and the cooks can't spoil it. Sand sinks to the bottom of one's tea so that it is likewise o.k. Surprising how hot tea cools one, isn't it? If you ship ever comes in it would be swell to receive a tin of grapefruit juice or tomato juice. Lack of pure water is a considerable problem. Therefore, if you send anything like a Buick or library over be sure it was packed during a rain storm.

All in all the place and country is o.k. I came here without a franc in my pocket—now I have a franc in my pocket, and so on.

Now casting back a bit. The trip over here was 100%. Ocean quite calm and weather perfect. The ship, I believe, was originally a Greek vessel of some fair size. I saw the Queen Mary at anchor in X and she certainly is a honey. I was vaccinated again while en route, and our money was submitted for exchange, which is at the present rate of 200 francs to a pound, and for Peg's sake, about 44 francs make a dollar, if I had a dollar.

They also began to give us malaria pills every other day or so.

We saw at intervals porpoises leaping and jumping alongside the ship. The young one swims within six inches of the parent, just as though it were bolted there. Are they mammals, by the way?

Well, more of this in a less morbid strain next time.

Your thirsting son,
.....V..... Len.

Fernie Curlers Having Trouble

All curlers please be warned that the roof of the curling rink is in very bad shape and that if it is not repaired this fall there will be no curling in Fernie this winter. The rink was built by the Roarin' Game Ltd., but for the past ten years the curlers have paid no rent and the original company has no funds nor is it their intention to keep it in repair. Something must be done at once. A meeting of the curling executive and all curlers and others interested is called for Friday evening at 7.30 in the basement of the East Kootenay Power Co. building.

After carrying on for thirty years and through ten years of severe depression few of our citizens would like to see the Club die a natural death through lack of effort. Some of our great curlers who have passed on would turn over in their graves at the thought. They put our town on the map as a great curling centre. From Vancouver to Winnipeg Fernie was known for its fine club.—Fernie Free Press.

Michel Airman Decorated

Ottawa, Sept. 9. — Air Force Headquarters announced tonight the award of 17 Distinguished Flying Crosses and 11 Distinguished Flying Medals to members of the RCAF. The awards include: DFM, Plt. Sgt. C. H. Lancaster, Michel B.C.

The citation reads: "Plt. Sgt. Lancaster has taken part in many successful sorties, including attacks on such heavily-defended targets as Duisberg and Berlin as well as the daylight raids on Le Creusot. On one occasion when over Hamburg, his aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire and he was wounded. Nevertheless, he brought his aircraft safely home. Remaining operational flying on recovery, he was detailed for an attack on Cologne, where his aircraft was again hit by anti-aircraft fire and went into an uncontrollable dive. By skilful regained control when the bomber was only 3,000 feet over the ground and flew safely back to base. Throughout his operational career this airman has displayed outstanding keenness and efficiency, while his courage and devotion to duty have been of a high order."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox recently visited at Calgary. Accompanying them were Mrs. D. Davies and three daughters and Sgt. Jack Campbell, who were enroute to their home at Edmonton after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cox for two weeks.

Thos. Uphill visited the Consolidated Mining Co's working at Corbin. Frank O'Sullivan is in charge up there and is getting out a lot of coal. Fifty-five CPR cars were loaded last week. In addition to the birdseye coal they are now working on the "Big Showing." They have borrowed the government steam shovel and are sure making the coal fly. They say the big showing is 6,100 feet above sea level and it is beginning to get cold up there. The coal is all being trucked down to the junction. About 40 trucks are in operation over a one-way road. The old right-of-way of the railway is being used.—Fernie Free Press.

The Fifth Victory Loan

CANADA'S FIFTH VICTORY LOAN has an objective of $1,200,000,000. This is the minimum cash objective, but it is anticipated that like the four previous loan objectives, it will be greatly over-subscribed. The sum which is asked from individual subscribers is $525,000,000, while the remainder will be solicited from a special list composed of large business firms and corporations. This is the largest objective yet set for a Victory Loan drive and it exceeds the last one, held last spring, by $100,000,000. It will mean, as it did in the four previous loans, that a maximum effort must be put forth by each individual, if the loan is to be a success, as it is sure to be. Canada's armed forces have increased steadily in numbers and strength, and to maintain them there must be full financial support from the people at home.

Severe Struggle Is Still Ahead

Finance Minister Inley in announcing the Victory Loan campaign, warned the people of the Dominion against complacency, because of recent Allied victories. In this connection, he said: "Although recent war news has been extremely favorable, I am sure that Canadians know that a severe and costly struggle is ahead. Our fighting forces are at full grips with the enemy and I am confident that Canadians at home will lend their full support by the purchase of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan bonds." Canadian troops in action have shown themselves to be of the highest calibre and they have received unreserved praise from all sides. Much of their success is due to their splendid training and equipment, all of which depends financially on the people on the home front.

Canada Praised By Churchill

In his recent historic radio address from Quebec City, Prime Minister Churchill dwelt for some time on Canada's contribution to the war, and gave some facts and figures which may have surprised some of us who were not fully aware of what is being done here. In relation to the size of her population, Canada's war effort is amazing, and to reach the proportions it has, whole-hearted financial support has been necessary. This has been supplied by the people of Canada, chiefly through increased taxation and the Victory Loans. We now have a further opportunity to show to ourselves and to the world, that this Dominion is prepared to support to the limit the mighty effort which is now being made to restore peace and order throughout the world.

DESSERTS

You may use the dessert course to include some of the protective foods especially milk, fruit, eggs and whole grain cereals. These are important sources of minerals, vitamins and flavour as well as energy.

If your main part of the meal is light such as soup, salad or sandwich then you should serve a substantial dessert. This group includes batter puddings with sauce, pastries, preserves and cake, waffles, fruit frozen desserts. You can use this basic recipe for biscuit dough.

2 cups flour 1 tsp. sugar 4 tsp. baking powder 1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup milk or water Mix, sift dry ingredients. Cut in fat. Add liquid gradually to make a soft dough. Knead 30 seconds on floured board and pat to 1/2" thickness. You may use whole wheat flour or 1/2 Graham and 1/2 white flour. To make a fruit roll, roll out the above with jam or preserved fruit, mince meat and roll up. Bake in moderate oven. You may also use this recipe for fresh fruit short cake by baking the biscuits first then adding the fruit.

Next you have the medium desserts, which include cheese and crackers, cornstarch, tapioca, sage and rice puddings, simple frozen desserts, simple fruit puddings. These desserts may follow luncheon or supper meals. When you use cornstarch, flour or cocoa you must be sure the individual particles are separated from each other before heat is applied, otherwise the thickened sauce will be lumpy. A basic recipe for cornstarch pudding includes

1 1/2 cups milk 1/4 tsp. salt 2-3 tbsp. cornstarch 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 tsp. vanilla

Mix cornstarch, salt and sugar. Add 1/4 cup of cold milk and mix thoroughly. Scald rest of milk. Add this to cornstarch mixture carefully. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes or longer until there is no taste of raw starch, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add flavouring, turn into molds and chill. You may alter the flavouring by adding fruit, caramel, maple or chocolate syrup, almond or lemon extract.

You should serve light desserts such as custard, junket, fruit, water ice or gelatin after a heavy dinner. We will consider custards today, they are divided into two groups, soft and baked custards. You will find the difference is the consistency, which depends on the proportion of egg to liquid and the method of cooking. I will give you a basic recipe for custard to which you may add chocolate, caramel, fruit or coffee to alter the flavouring.

2 cups milk 2 whole eggs or 4 yolks Soft Custard 2-4 tbsp. vanilla 1/2 tsp. salt

Beat eggs, add sugar and stir until blended. Add hot milk and strain. Cook in a double boiler stirring until the mixture coats the spoon. Cool, add flavouring.

Baked Custard The same ingredients are used but if the custard is to be turned into a mold cut the milk down to 1 1/4 cups.

SERVICE CHEVRONS

Each black service chevron on a soldier's sleeve means a complete year of service in the present war. A silver "stripe" below them means that the officer or man was appointed or enlisted before September 10, 1940.

"City of a thousand steeples," Montreal, Quebec, is also famous for its towering St. Joseph's Shrine, situated on the slopes of Mount Royal.

SMILE AWHILE

Mrs. Grimm—So you have a job with my friend, Mrs. Long. Did you tell her that you had only been with me two weeks?

Maid—Yes, ma'am, and she said if I could stay two weeks with you that was reference enough for her.

Lady—That parrot I bought here swears frightfully.

Dealer—I don't deny, madam, that he uses violent language. But you must admit he doesn't drink or smoke.

Host—Talking about Africa makes me think of the time—

Bored Guest—Good gracious, you're quite right! I had no idea it was so late. Good-bye.

Judge (questioning elderly woman who saw the wreck): "Isn't it true that the plaintiff made only a cursory examination of his damaged car?"

Woman: "Good gracious, yes, it was so cursory I had to put my hands over my ears."

A writer on the pastime says it is not known who invented the game of golf. One theory is that it was a Scottish woman who objected to her husband drinking at home.

Little Mary had been for a walk in the country. When she arrived home, her mother asked her if she had enjoyed her walk. She answered: "Oh, yes, Mummy, I had a lovely walk, but isn't it funny what a lot of cottages are called 'No Eggs'?"

"What's that building?" asked the stranger. "That's the asylum for the blind," said the native.

"Go on, you can't fool me," said the stranger. "What's all them windows for?"

"You've made a mistake in your paper," said the indignant man, entering the editorial sanctum. "I was one of the competitors at the athletic match yesterday, and you have called me the well-known lightweight champion."

"Well, aren't you?" said the editor. "No, I'm nothing of the kind, and you're so awfully awkward, because you see, I'm a coal merchant."

Teacher—Joe, who were the Pilgrim Fathers? Joe—Darned if I know; I always do get those religious orders bailed up.

"Do you have matins at this church," asked the visitor. "We used to have," replied the verger, "but the new vicar tripped over them, so 'e put down a carpet."

Our Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By Ottawa Observer)

IT'S a different war the navy boys find. Before going ashore to keep a date nowadays a fellow has to get the approval of the officer of the day as to appearance. Shoes must be shined, face shaved, hair groomed, and if you don't believe us, ask Stoker Benny Bennett of Trimins. He was ready to hop into port somewhere, and after the officer checked him over, he had to scurry down and find a barber first.

Something new has been added. A number of CWA's are getting a course of instruction in Vision Testing and Training at McGill University. Some from every Military district and some from basic training centres.

Flight Sergeant Jack Hughes, a former taxi driver of Dauphin, Man., will always remember his last flight in Sicily before being off to Blighty. The R.C.A.F. man was over his target when a wing of his plane was blown off by ack-ack, and he went into a deadly "roll". How he did it no one knows, because he should have been a "gone goose", but he dashed if he didn't bring the one armed ship into a landing at an unheard of speed of 210 miles an hour. He's now back in Blighty after thumbing his nose at the old man with the scythe.

One of Canada's newest fighting ships has a mascot named "Skippy", that is the pride of the Navy. He's a pint sized fox terrier, and he governs the crew just like a commanding officer.

Leading Airwoman Pat Joslin of Kitchener, Ont., was passing through London, Eng., to her bomber group of the R.C.A.F. with a cousin, L.A. Mary Barr of Simcoe, Ont. Sitting on a pile of luggage, she spied her brother, Lieut. Thos. Joslin, whom she hadn't seen for three years. She dashed wildly into the crowd, but imagine, her brother was away in the underground (subway) before she got to him. Tough luck that.

Among the many deserved decorations recently awarded Canadian Fliers, were Distinguished Flying Medals to Flight Sergeant H. E. Patch of Vegreville, Alberta, and Flight Sergeant A. P. Fast of Langley, B.C. These join the brilliant list of exploits by lads who a few years ago had never stepped in a plane.

Soon to be sub-lieutenants in the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve is the first class of young Canadians to graduate from H.M.S. Cornwallis in Nova Scotia. They will be going to action stations in the battle of the North Atlantic, and will be given as good an account of themselves as their young predecessors. Among the graduates were a number of prairie boys, including Norman McMillan of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, and Ewart Puffer of Rosetown, Sask. Navy officials in Ottawa never cease marveling at the fact that boys from the prairies make such splendid sailors. Fellows who have had very little, if any, chance to get their legs. As a matter of fact, most of them had never been on a boat before joining the Navy. That applies to girl sailors, too, specifically Wrens Reta Clements of Pine Falls, Manitoia, who used to be a stenographer with a big paper mill there, and Dorothy Hill, of Meadow Lake, Sask. These girls were in the first group of Wrens to get across the briny.

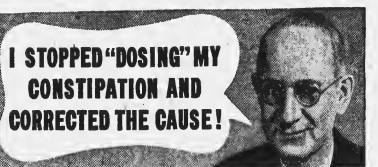

Keep writing the boys and girls from home. That's the best present you can send them, although they do love the gifts, candy and stuff. Industrial firms can help with the morale. One firm we know of which has 71 former employees in the forces, sends out a regular "communique" to them weekly on the doings around the shops. Why, they get more kick out of that than the newspaper headlines.

Many of you will want to know what this "link training plan" for the army is, now that all army basic training centres in Canada are being reorganized to release the maximum of men. Briefly, recruits will receive their B.T. at a centre designed for their particular branch of the service, instead of to a general centre with recruits from every section of the army. B.T. centres will be specifically concerned with or "linked" to service associations. Hence the name "link". Fit men will join reinforcements, and unfit men will be discharged from the army.

Empire Study

Britain To Supply Special Courses In School On Empire Affairs

British school-children are to learn more about the Empire. More than 100 teachers from state schools are spending their holidays in York, where they are attending a special course on Empire affairs. The Board of Education plans to hold these schools on the Empire for teachers in all parts of the United Kingdom, so that they will be able to pass on to their pupils a more vital outlook on Empire affairs. Lecturers include Mr. L. S. Amery, Secretary of State for India, who opened the course with a talk on India.

● In these busy days of war you owe it to your country—as well as to yourself—to keep "in the pink". That's why it's so important to avoid the common type of constipation caused by lack of "bulk" in the diet. And do it by getting right at the cause instead of "dosing" with harsh purgatives that give only temporary relief. Just follow this simple plan. Eat

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day! It's delicious as a cereal or in hot, tasty muffins. Drink plenty of water. Then see if you don't agree ALL-BRAN is the "better way" to natural regularity. But remember, eat ALL-BRAN every day! Grocers have ALL-BRAN in two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Sisters Receive Their Commissions

Working their way up through the ranks of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, the above sisters recently received their commissions.

Miss Bernice Soper, among the first girls to volunteer for service in Sept., 1941, and having served in all ranks, received her commission in Sherbrooke, Que., in March, 1943. She followed a cadet course at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., and was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in July, 1943. Lieut. Soper has been a member of the Instructional Staff at the Basic Training Centre, Kitchener, Ont., since the training centre opened, and returned to that centre on August 14th, after spending her annual leave at Carleton Place, Ont., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Soper.

Cover Wide Range For Mechanized Troops

Great Variety Of Goods Found In "Dead Letter Parcels"

Post office officials have sorted and packed a great accumulation of cosmetics and cutlery, cigarettes and sometimes, silk stockings and best sellers in preparation for the sale of "dead letter parcels."

The sale is held every two years, after every bit of ingenuity has been used in attempting to locate either the person to whom the parcel was addressed or the sender.

Officials who sort materials to be sold said the accumulation was sufficient to start a lingerie shop, equip several automobiles apart from the heaviest equipment, supply a kitchen or two with all the hardware needed and keep a tobacco store in cigarettes for a considerable period.

The money from the sale goes to the receiver-general of Canada in the same way as cash and money orders from letters whose owners cannot be traced.

"We've had everything from a small ship anchor to a safety pin," said one official. "We've had the occasional dead animal—and an imitation milk coat. Cosmetics of every kind have been found, with razors, fountain pens, food of all kinds, every variety of tobacco, skis, skates, hairpins, manicure sets and pills and tonics in immense array."

PENICILLIN PRODUCTION Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the University of Toronto, said research on production of penicillin, new drug for the treatment of blood poisoning, has been proceeding at Banting Institute of the University for more than a year. He said penicillin produced at Toronto at the present time is reserved for use in the armed forces.

DESCRIBES CONDITIONS IN STRICKEN POLAND AFTER FOUR YEARS OF NAZI OCCUPATION

LONDON.—Today, four years after Hitler conquered Poland, German soldiers still are not allowed to walk the streets of Warsaw alone.

After four years of persecutions and cruelty the gestapo still carries on mass murder, mass deportations and mass arrests. But the Germans still are afraid of hunger-stricken Poland.

The story of what life is like in Warsaw has been brought here by a formerly well-to-do Pole who escaped to join the Polish army here as an officer.

He said those who knew Warsaw in pre-war days would not recognize the well-known streets in the shapeless ruins stretching for miles, the people tired-looking, dressed in rags, with pale sickly faces and nervous furtive movements.

Warsaw awakes at 6 a.m. when the peasant carts begin clattering on the cobble streets of the suburbs, bringing vegetables for Germans only. Poles cannot buy vegetables or fruit. All they have is what they can grow in the narrow strips of soil along the city pavements which once were parkways.

By 8 o'clock the streets are crowded with people going to work, starting a hunt for the means to live, or simply those who have no homes.

Unlike the occupied countries of Holland, Belgium and France, Poles get no clothing coupons. People go on wearing their pre-war clothing. Production of leather shoes is forbidden and the streets echo with the clatter of wooden shoes.

Official food ration for Poles constitutes a starvation diet. An adult is entitled to six ounces of meat, six ounces of flour, two eggs and six ounces of beetroot jam a month. He gets four ounces of bread a day. There is no milk or fat ration. Nor is there any fuel allocation. Electricity is cut off except for three hours a day in the winter and two in the summer.

Countless trainloads of food leave Poland daily for Germany or the Russian front. Shops supplying German clients are full of food. German soldiers send provisions to their families back home.

OPENING OF MEDITERRANEAN PLACES ALLIES IN A BETTER POSITION IN RESPECT TO SHIPS

LONDON.—Naval success in the Mediterranean appeared to have put the Allies in a position to realize by November their goal of 10,000,000 tons of shipping to support a second front in Europe.

Turning the Mediterranean into an Anglo-American lake also had a subsidiary effect—the possible immediate release of a half dozen capital ships and accompanying cruisers, carriers, destroyers and other vessels for the Pacific.

It was estimated unofficially that the Allies need at least 10,000,000 tons in the shipping pool for establishing and keeping a second front in western Europe.

Based on published construction and loss statement, the Allies probably gained about 3,500,000 net tons over losses since May 1 through the building program alone.

Another estimated 3,000,000 tons was made available through opening of the Mediterranean shipping route, eliminating longer hauls to Cairo and India. The shipping increment from Italy's capitulation may run between one and two million tons but it was not all clear profit since the bulk will be diverted for supplying the Italian people.

But the release of warships from the Mediterranean should reduce the margin between losses and building by reducing sinkings by Nazi U-boats in the Atlantic. Thus, on these calculations, the Allies already were within a million or two tons of the goal.

The Mediterranean victory probably removed the last chance for a major fleet engagement in European waters in this war. The only two Axis weapons remaining, outside of the Pacific, were U-boats and the penned up German fleet, which the British home fleet was assigned to keep under blockade.

RESEARCH PROGRAM

Develop New Processes For Using Farm Products In West

WINNIPEG.—Possibility of developing new processes for using farm crops for non-food purposes was discussed here by Dr. J. A. Anderson, chief chemist, board of grain commissioners.

In an address to members of the Winnipeg Industrial Development Board, Dr. Anderson said an expanded research program was necessary if Canada was to hold its own in development of land crops for non-food purposes.

He spoke on the possibility of developing western industries, and said certain plants, notably crushing, fibre production and fermentation, might lend themselves to rural development in small scale units.

TERROR CAMPAIGN

Nazis Would Undermine Any Resistance In Switzerland

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa.—The Nazis were reported to have circulated rumors that German troops may cross Switzerland and French patriots were said to have sabotaged the main railroad between Italy and France.

The Nazis apparently had started a terror campaign to undermine resistance in Switzerland should the German army be forced to send men and war materials across the neutral state into Italy.

The French underground was reported to have broken the railway into Italy about 18 miles from Chambray and it was expected that this would interrupt traffic between the countries for some time.

HELP FROM BRITAIN

LONDON.—Britain is to give financial assistance for the grapefruit industry in British Honduras, which has been hard hit by the war, and the provision of $40,000 for this purpose has been approved.

AIR RAID CASUALTIES

LONDON.—Civilian air raid casualties in Britain in August totalled 108 killed or missing, believed killed, and 164 injured and detained in hospital.

Thus all major Allied naval strength from the Mediterranean became available for the Pacific with the exception of lighter units which presumably were kept for protection of convoys in the Mediterranean and Atlantic.

Pictured somewhere in the North African war theatre is Lieut.-Col. C. S. Wallace, former Toronto and Edmonton newspaperman who is Deputy Director of Public Relations for Canadian forces in the field. He heads a staff of Army photographers and writers serving in that combat zone.

V.O.N. NURSES

WINNIPEG.—Miss Dorothy Mickleborough of Ottawa, national office supervisor for the Victorian Order of Nurses in western Canada, said here the organization in Canada now had 390 nurses. Many of these nurses are located in the nation's war plants, she said.

PRIZE OFFERED

BURLINGTON, Ia.—George Ganakas and John Skarlis, Burlington residents of Greek ancestry, offer $300 to the first service man who sets foot on Greek soil in the events of an invasion there by the Allies.

Dr. Churchill Makes "V" Sign

From the window of Sanders theatre at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., British Prime Minister Winston Churchill makes his famed "V for Victory" sign to gathered students of the university. He was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by the university at a special convocation. In his address he pleaded for a post-war co-operation between the United States and Great Britain.

General McNaughton In Sicily

Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, G.O.C.-in-C, First Canadian Army, is shown here talking to Canadian officers who saw action through the Sicilian campaign. Gen. McNaughton recently visited all Canadian units and formations in Sicily, and North Africa.

EDUCATION OF YOUTH

Suggest Setting Up Of Advisory Council On School Broadcasting

QUEBEC.—Education should become the key to post-war reconstruction, Dr. J. S. Thomson, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said here in an address to the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association convention.

"As I understand it, the basic principle of the proposals for reconstruction rest upon the conviction that the real wealth of a nation is its people," he continued. "Surely the best method of conserving and developing this most valuable of our resources is the education of youth."

"This will involve the expenditure of money, but in a democratic society, the final control and direction of public spending is a reflection of what the people count as valuable."

R. S. Lambert, educational adviser of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, asked the approval of the convention of a plan for the setting up of a national advisory council on school broadcasting. The council, he said, would consist of 14 members: one for each province except Quebec (which would have two—one French and one English), one for the Confederation of Canadian Universities, one for the Canadian Teachers' Federation, and one for the National Federation of Home and School. In addition, the CBC would nominate a distinguished educationist as chairman.

After discussion, the suggestion was approved by the delegates, with the amendment that the number be raised to 16, adding a French-speaking representative of the university group and a second representing the Parents' Association.

"There is no need to elaborate on the future importance of school broadcasting in Canada," Mr. Lambert said. "Radio is admirably suited to be the instrument for strengthening national unity in the rising generation in our country. It is up to experts to prepare the plans—experts in education and experts in broadcasting."

EXILED GOVERNMENTS ARE OPPOSED TO ALLIED PLANS TO GOVERN LIBERATED COUNTRIES

LONDON.—A majority of the exiled governments in London are opposed to any British-American plans to establish civil administration over territories liberated from the Nazis and have completed plans to do so themselves, a survey indicated.

Well-informed sources said there was good reason to believe Britain and America would allow the exiled governments of Norway, Belgium and Holland to move in with the liberating Allied forces since these governments are the same which were operating in those countries when the Nazis took over.

They said, however, that there appeared to be little possibility the Allies would allow the Yugoslav government-in-exile to send in its own civil administration since the Yugoslavs during a two-year period never have been able to lay down a definite policy. In this and in similar situations, the Allies are expected to set up temporary civil administration such as the Allied Military Government (AMG) now operating in Sicily and occupied Italy. The Allies probably will back King Peter in Yugoslavia, it was said.

Officially of the exiled governments contended that they are a part of the United Nations and therefore should be given the privilege of establishing their own civil administrations to operate until such time as the people have opportunity to choose leaders.

The Norwegian, Belgian and Dutch governments, who have been making plans for more than a year, have established civil administration schools to train their own nationals for post-war jobs.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden conferred with the exiled governments following the Quebec conference but it is understood that no final decisions were reached.

The Greek government, which also has been making plans for more than a year, has moved to Cairo in order to be ready to move in its civil administration as soon as possible after an Allied invasion. A number of Greeks have been smuggled out of the country to join the exiled government.

FIELD MARSHAL WAVELL SAYS WE WILL MAKE PROGRESS WHEN WE HAVE DEFEATED POVERTY

REACH BRITAIN

Canadian Midshipmen Will Soon Be Serving In Royal Navy

A BRITISH PORT.—Canadian midshipmen, first class to graduate from the new Royal Naval college at Royal Roads, B.C., have arrived at the Canadian naval establishment here and soon will be serving in battleships and cruisers of the Royal Navy.

This is the first class of midshipmen to be sent over from Canada during the war. They average 19 years of age and come from all parts of the Dominion.

The two prize-winning midshipmen in the party are R. W. J. Cocks, of Victoria, who was chosen best all round cadet and G. L. Hopkins of Regina, who graduated highest in his class. Both were presented with watchkeeping telescopes, gift of the Canadian naval department.

Engineer sub-tenants have been added to Canada's ever-increasing complement of officers serving with the Royal Navy.

Products of the Dominion's universities and representing every section of Canada, these latest arrivals will undergo a period of training in warships of the Royal Navy. They average 23 and they have already undergone a term of initial training at a Canadian naval college.

They include: Alan Malcolm Cameron, Saskatoon; George Irvin Loucks, Invermay, Sask., and Francis William Carson, Saskatoon.

LONDON.—Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, viceroy-designate of India, told the Pilgrims Society that "we shall really be making progress when we are willing to spend money against poverty, ignorance, unemployment and sickness at the same rate as against Hitler—when we pay our schoolmasters at a much higher rate and our lawyers perhaps at a somewhat lower rate."

Advocating a return to the Pilgrim spirit," he called lend-lease the "first attempt on a large scale for many years to put principles and men's lives first and money second." The viceroy-designate told the Anglo-American luncheon audience that the establishment of Vice-Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's East Asia command "will make Anglo-American co-operation even closer in India, which is one of the principal bases for our common effort against Japan."

"There can be no military or economic security for the East, for ourselves and for the world," he said, "until Japan is as thoroughly defeated as Germany."

He said, "we are approaching the end of the struggle with Hitler. We are only beginning the struggle to save civilization. . . . We shall many of us soon, I hope, be taking off our uniforms, but we must not cease fighting or let the sword sleep in our hands."

PEACE PROPOSALS

Japan Is Constantly Offering More Liberal Terms To China

WASHINGTON.—China is constantly receiving peace proposals from Japan and the terms become more liberal as the Japanese become more hard pressed, T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister, said.

Soong said the Japanese are ready to get out of China (except for Manchuria and Formosa) if China will leave the United Nations and join Japan in a racial war against the white man.

He said that on the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor such a proposal came through, but that China had never wavered.

"I know of no conscious political group who sees in this any solution," the foreign minister said.

ADVERTISING CANADA

WINNIPEG.—B. A. Proulx of Ottawa, in charge of theatrical distribution for the national film board said in an interview here that more than 7,000 theatres in the United States are being serviced with films about Canada by the board. "There is a great need for publicizing Canada in foreign countries," Mr. Proulx also said.

PUT UP BIG FIGHT

LONDON.—Hundreds of Germans and Croat Quislings were killed in a big five-day battle at Karlovatz in Croatia before the Italian garrison of 10,000 was disarmed, a Reuters news agency despatch detailed today.
